- This romantic life in Kashmir was drawing to its end after three glorious months. Miss Joan was leaving a week earlier than Mrs Rhodes, and about two days before she left, I took her alone to the hotel for dinner. We walked to the hotel in perfect silence, a silence so heavy that I could hardly breathe. The hotel seemed to be far away and yet not far enough. That night, as I served her at the table the temptation to touch her was overpowering and I Had almost forgotten myself when I dropped her coffee cup, which made me pull myself together and realise my position and caste.
