Vision:

The College envisions an atmosphere of education which is free from fear, fulfilled with potentialities, thirsty for knowledge and courageous to learn.

Goal:

The goals of the college include the achievement of excellence in several disciplines of higher education, extension of facilities to those who are in the backward areas, creation of opportunities for those who are the first generation learners, especially, from the minority communities, scheduled castes and tribes, empowerment of young students so that they can set ideals for those who will step them in future.

Objectives:

The objectives of the college is to nurture accommodative relationship between the students and the teaching and non-teaching staffs, to extend the scopes for classes including the remedial classes for the backward students, to conduct timely examinations and evaluations, and the attach students with different co-curricular and extra-curricular activities.

Strength and Weakness of the College:

Strength:

One of the major strengths of this college is the sheer number of students. At present this institution has more than 3000 students.

The disciplines taught in this college and offered to students as combination subjects is a noteworthy aspect of this institution. Apart from Sociology, Defence Studies, four Languages and Literature are taught in this institution, namely Bengali, English, Sanskrit and Arabic.

In terms of geographical location this college is located beside Basanti Highway. As a result this college has the special advantage in terms of communication facilities since it is connected to a highway with transportation facilities.

Weakness:

The students teacher ratio is very poor.

Most of the students of this institution come from remote village and faraway places. There is a canteen for them but there is no provision of quality food from that canteen.

Xerox machine, printers, computers etc. are in paucity and teachers lose time in availing these from outside the college.

The college library need to be more modernized.

There is a need to develop a green zone and grow plants in the college premises.

Opportunity and Threat/Challenge of the College:

Opportunities:

Even though BHKM is a rural college, there is more acceptance to online education after pandemic. This can have positive ramifications in the long run given that NEP 2020 places emphasis on types of learning besides regular offline classroom based lecture method of teaching.

Young faculties with research experience: Many among the faculty have been awarded Ph. D. degrees in recent times and this can prove to be an opportunity for the college to engage in more of research activities. So PG course in potential departments may be opened.

Threat/Challenge:

To enhance job opportunities for our students by strengthening industry-academia relation.

More students need to be encouraged for competitive examinations and higher studies.

Humayun Zahiruddin Amir-i-Kabir (1906-1969), an educationist, politician, writer, philosopher, was born on 22 February 1906 at Komarpur village near the district town of Faridpur, Bangladesh. Humayun Kabir was a versatile man, combining intellectual brilliance, literary talent, and political acumen with active leadership and a non-communal outlook. His father, Kabiruddin Ahmad, was a deputy magistrate and a man with a liberal outlook and independent mind. Humayun Kabir was an exceptional talent in many ways. He topped the list of successful candidates in the Matriculation examination of 1922 with star marks. He studied at Presidency College for the next two years and passed the Higher Secondary examination, standing third in the first division with letter marks in English. He did his Honours and Masters in English from Calcutta University and set a new record by standing first class first in both examinations.

Humayun Kabir decided not to enter in government services. He opted for teaching and went to Exeter College, Oxford, in 1928 on a scholarship. There he took up Honours in 'Modern Greats', i.e, philosophy, political science and economics. Here too, he stood first class first in 1931. He also established himself as a student leader and orator. In 1932, Kabir joined Andhra University as a lecturer in philosophy at the invitation of Dr S. Radhakrishnan. A year later he joined Calcutta University. Alongside teaching, he devoted himself to literary activities and became associated with trade union politics. He joined KrishakPraja Party and was elected to the Bengal Legislative Assembly (1937-1947). Although an intellectual of high standards, he was a strong advocate of the rights of peasants and workers. He was president of three large Indian trade unions. In 1946, Humayun Kabir became private secretary to the Congress president Maulana Abul Kalam Azad. When Abul Kalam Azad became the Education Minister, Kabir served as joint education advisor, education secretary and chairman of the University Grants Commission. The Moulana dictated his famous book India Wins Freedom to him in Urdu.

In 1956, HumayunKabir was elected as member of the Indian RajyaSabha or upper house. Prime Minister Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru appointed him State Minister for Civil Aviation and, after the death of Moulana Azad in 1958, made him Minister for Education. Kabir was later appointed Minister for Scientific Research and Cultural Affairs. From 1957 until his death in 1969 he was a member of Lok Sabha from Bashirhat constituency of West Bengal. When Lal Bahadur Shastri became Prime Minister of India after Nehru's death, Humayun Kabir was again appointed as the Education Minister. He was also one of the co-drafters of the UNESCO 1950 statement titled The Race Question.

Humayun Kabir achieved success in every sphere of his life. This is true about his literary activities also. Although he was a restless person with a consistent smile on his face, he was a thoughtful writer and developed an attractive style. He worked as an editor from his schooldays. In 1920, he edited his high school magazine, in 1926, he edited the Presidency

College magazine, and at Oxford, he edited two journals: Sis and Cherwell. On his return home, in 1932, he started editing Baromashi, a monthly journal. However, in the history of Bangla periodicals, he will be remembered for the high quality quarterly Chaturanga (1939-69). He also edited reports and books for many local and foreign organisations. A collection of Bangla short stories and poems, Green and Gold (1958) deserves special mention.

Humayun Kabir was a poet, novelist, and essayist. He made his literary debut in 1928 with Svapnasadh, Sathi (1930) and followed by Astadashi(1938). The poems in these volumes reflect his romanticism in which he followed the tradition of Rabindranath Tagore. Equally fluent in Bangla and Urdu, he translated Musaddas-e-Hali into Bangla. Humayun Kabir was also a fiction writer of some note, writing both short stories and novels. In the thirties, a number of his short stories were published. His novel, Nadi O Nari, was published in 1945. Its English version, Men and Rivers, was also published at about the same time. This novel, which tells about the lives of Bengali Muslims who dwell on the banks of the Padma, was made into a film in Dhaka in 1956.

Humayun Kabir was, however, known primarily as an essayist. He wrote, equally fluently in both Bangla and English, very readable essays on philosophy, literature, education and sociology. Some of his well-known books are Imanuel Kant (1936), Sharat Sahityer Multattva (1942), Banglar Kavya (1945), Marxhad (1951), Naya Bharater Shiksha (1955), Shiksak O Shiksarthi (1957), Mirza Abu Talib Khan (1961), Delhi-Washington-Moscow (1964), Kant on Philosophy in General (1935), Poetry. Monads and Society (1941), Muslim Politics in Bengal (1943), Rabindranath Tagore (1945), The Indian Heritage (1946/60), Science, Democracy and Islam(1955), Education in India (1956), Studies in Bengali Poetry (1964), The Bengali Novel (1968), Education for Tomorrow (1968), Minorities in a Democracy (1969) etc.

Well-known as an orator, HumayunKabir was invited to speak by many universities at home and abroad. At Oxford, he delivered the Herbert Spencer Lectures on Einstein and Russell. He was the first Asian to have this honour. In 1957 he spoke at the Kamgari Conference of Maulana Abdul Hamid Khan Bhasani as leader of the Indian delegation. For his contribution in the field of culture he was honoured with awards by universities such as Aligarh, Annamalai, Khairagarh (Madhya Pradesh,), Viswa-Bharati, Mahishur and Athens. He died of heart attack in Kolkata on 18 August 1969.

BAMANPUKUR HUMAYUN KABIR MAHAVIDYALAYA

An Introduction

Bamanpukur Humayun Kabir Mahavidyalaya grew out of dream of all the inhabitants residing in and around the Minakhan Block of Bashirhat Sub-division, North 24 Paraganas, who came forward with all their great and pious wishes to the cause of higher education for the young in the locality with a hope to build the college as a center of excellence and to nurture human values at a time when the world requires effective and efficient manpower for the sustenance of our planet earth. 'Thirst for Knowledge' and 'Courage to Learn' have been the twin mantras that the college chants and that unceasingly enkindles the teaching faculty and the in-house staff who always strives for the benefit of the students, who come from distant areas to share the values of the college and to be a good citizen of the country. The college is, undeniably, a new one with little modern infrastructural amenities. But, within a short span of time, it has established its eagerness and ceaseless efforts for the causes of higher education and always aspires to be an important centre of education where liberation of mind and success in life constitute the raison d'etre of the college, Bamanpukur Humayun Kabir Mahavidyalaya.

The College, Inter Alia, Urges

1. To instill and inculcate new sets of values through continuous counseling.
2. To foster diverse extra-curricular activities by and for the students.
3. To nurture democratic values and to motivate students to perform constitutional duties.
4. To develop social and disciplined life along with other stakeholders.

Our Acknowledgement

Bamanpukur Humayun Kabir Mahavidyalaya has been a long awaited and cherished dream of the locality. Though initiated in 1973, the college could not proceed for a couple of years for certain manifest and latent reasons until the local panchayat, panchayat samity , M.L.A. and M.P came forward with their Local Area Development schemes with certain specific assistance from the Government of West Bengal and Sunderban Development Board.

The college deeply acknowledges the generous monetary contributions of the inhabitants of Minakhan Block, specifically the people of Bamanpukur. Local school management committees, teachers, non-teaching staffs and students of Bamanpukur Sannyasi High School, Minakhan Jatindranath Balika Vidyalaya, Karanchatala Subhasini Bidyapith, Chaital Pallimangal Bidyalaya, Bachra High School, Dhudhurda High School came forward with all assistance for the noble cause. The college heartily acknowledges their contributions. It will definitely be a mistake if the contributions made by different mass organizations of the area including the Sunderban Brickfield Owners' Association are not mentioned. The college acknowledges all types of contributions of all types of people, organizations, and institutions who came forward to build the college as a reality.
